Introduction to MUN

What is the Model United Nations?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic simulation of the United Nations where students represent different countries and discuss international issues.

As a delegate, your job is not to simply give your personal opinion. You represent the country assigned to you and should argue according to that country's interests, policies and relationships.

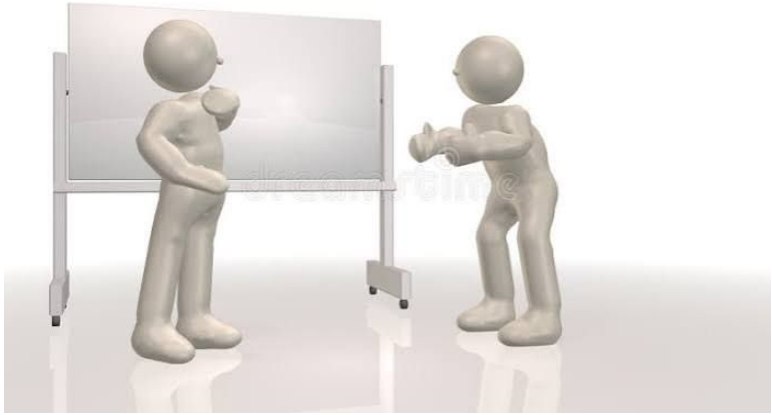

What does a delegate do?

A delegate should be able to:

- Research their assigned country
- Understand the agenda
- Prepare speeches
- Participate in formal debate
- Ask and answer questions
- Negotiate with other delegates
- Create solutions
- Write resolution clauses
- Work with other countries
- Defend their country's position

MUN Language

SPEAK LIKE A DELEGATE

LOK SABHA — Indian Domestic Politics & Legislation

Casual:
“Your bill is a terrible idea.”

MUN:
“The delegation believes that the proposed bill may have significant limitations in its current form.”

Casual:
“The government isn't doing enough.”

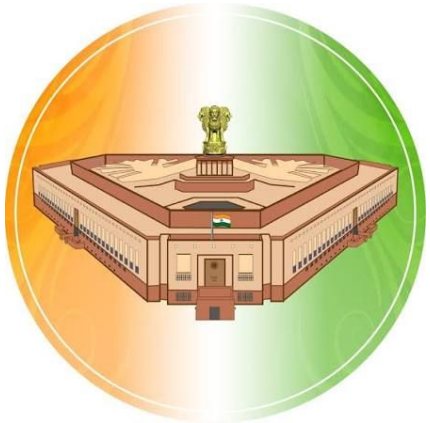

MUN:
“The delegation believes that the government should take additional measures to address this issue.”

Casual:
“This law will never work.”

MUN:
“The delegation has concerns regarding the practical implementation of this legislation.”

Casual:
“Why would you increase taxes?”

MUN:
“Could the Honourable Member clarify the reasoning behind the proposed increase in taxation?”

DISEC — Disarmament & International Security

Casual:
“You can't just tell countries to get rid of their weapons.”

MUN:
“The delegation believes that complete disarmament may present significant security challenges without appropriate verification and safeguards.”

Casual:
“Your country is making the world less safe.”

MUN:
“The delegation is concerned that these actions could contribute to increased regional security tensions.”

Casual:
“Nuclear weapons are dangerous, so ban them.”

MUN:
“The delegation supports strengthening international efforts to reduce the risks associated with nuclear weapons.”

Casual:
“That plan won't stop countries from developing weapons.”

MUN:
“The delegation questions whether the proposed measures would be sufficient to prevent further proliferation.”

UNHRC — Human Rights

Casual:
“Your country is violating people's rights.”

MUN:
“The delegation expresses concern regarding reports of human rights violations within the country.”

Casual:
“You need to treat these people better.”

MUN:
“The delegation urges member states to strengthen protections for affected populations.”

Casual:
“That's completely unfair.”

MUN:
“The delegation is concerned that this policy may result in unequal treatment of affected communities.”

Casual:
“Why aren't you protecting refugees?”

MUN:
“Could the delegation clarify what measures it is taking to ensure the protection of refugees?”

UNODC — Drugs & Crime

Casual:
“Criminal groups are getting away with everything.”

MUN:
“The delegation is concerned about the continued ability of organized criminal networks to evade law-enforcement mechanisms.”

Casual:
“Countries need to share information.”

MUN:
“The delegation recommends strengthening international intelligence-sharing and law-enforcement cooperation.”

Casual:
“Your plan won't stop drug trafficking.”

MUN:
“The delegation believes that the proposed measures may not sufficiently address the underlying causes of drug trafficking.”

Casual:
“Why don't you arrest these people?”

MUN:
“Could the delegation elaborate on its proposed measures for investigating and prosecuting individuals involved in organized crime?”

UNSC — International Peace & Security

Casual:
“You need to stop fighting.”

MUN:
“The delegation calls upon all parties to pursue an immediate cessation of hostilities.”

Casual:
“Your country is causing the conflict.”

MUN:
“The delegation is concerned about the role of the actions of ___ in contributing to the escalation o the conflict.”

Casual:
“Send soldiers there.”

MUN:
“The delegation proposes the consideration of an appropriately mandated international peacekeep presence.”

Casual:
“Sanctions won't solve everything.”

MUN:
“The delegation recognizes that sanctions alone may be insufficient and should be accompanied by additional diplomatic measures.”

IP PHOTOGRAPHY — Visual Storytelling

Since this is a press committee, the language is different from diplomatic committees.

Casual:
“That's a really good photo.”

Professional:
“The photograph effectively captures the interaction between the delegates and communicates the intensity of the debate.”

Casual:
“This picture is boring.”

Professional:
“The photograph could be strengthened through a more engaging composition or perspective.”

Casual:
“I want to take a picture of that delegate.”

Professional:
“I would like to capture this moment because it contributes to the visual story of the committee.”

Casual:
“Everyone looks serious.”

Professional:
“The delegates' expressions and body language convey the seriousness of the discussion.”

IFI — Indian Film Industry

Casual:
“Your movie is promoting a bad message.”

MUN:
“The delegation believes that the film may have potentially harmful implications for its audience and wider society.”

Casual:
“You can't just ban the movie.”

MUN:
“The delegation believes that an outright ban may unnecessarily restrict artistic expression and should be carefully considered.”

Casual:
“Actors aren't getting paid enough.”

MUN:
“The delegation recognizes the importance of ensuring fair compensation and appropriate working conditions for individuals within the film industry.”

Casual:
“Piracy is ruining the film industry.”

MUN:
“The delegation is concerned that widespread film piracy may negatively affect the revenue and sustainability of the Indian film industry.”

CCC — Continuous Crisis Committee

Casual:
“We need to deal with this right now.”

MUN:
“The delegation urges the committee to take immediate action in response to the developing crisis.”

Casual:
“We don't know what's going to happen next.”

MUN:
“The delegation recognizes the uncertainty surrounding the situation and recommends preparing for multiple possible developments.”

Casual:
“Something bad just happened, what do we do?”

MUN:
“In light of the latest development, the delegation proposes an immediate response to contain the situation and prevent further escalation.”

Casual:
“Your plan isn't going to work anymore.”

MUN:
“Given the recent developments, the delegation believes that the existing strategy should be reassessed and adapted accordingly.”

MARVEL — Marvel Committee

Since this is a fictional crisis committee, the language should still sound diplomatic, but delegates can speak from the perspective of their character/organization.

Casual:
"We need to stop the villain before they destroy everything."

MUN:
"The delegation proposes immediate coordinated action to prevent the threat from escalating further."

Casual:
"Your character caused this mess."

MUN:
"The delegation is concerned that the actions of ___ may have contributed to the current crisis."

Casual:
"Just attack them."

MUN:
"The delegation proposes considering a direct intervention against the identified threat while minimizing risks to civilians."

Casual:
"That plan is useless."

MUN:
"The delegation has significant concerns regarding the effectiveness of the proposed strategy and recommends considering an alternative approach."

In short

LOK SABHA: Parliamentary, assertive and politically aware

DISEC: Security-focused, strategic and evidence-based

UNHRC: Rights-focused, diplomatic and humanitarian

UNODC: Analytical, cooperative and solution-focused

UNSC: Direct, strategic and diplomatic

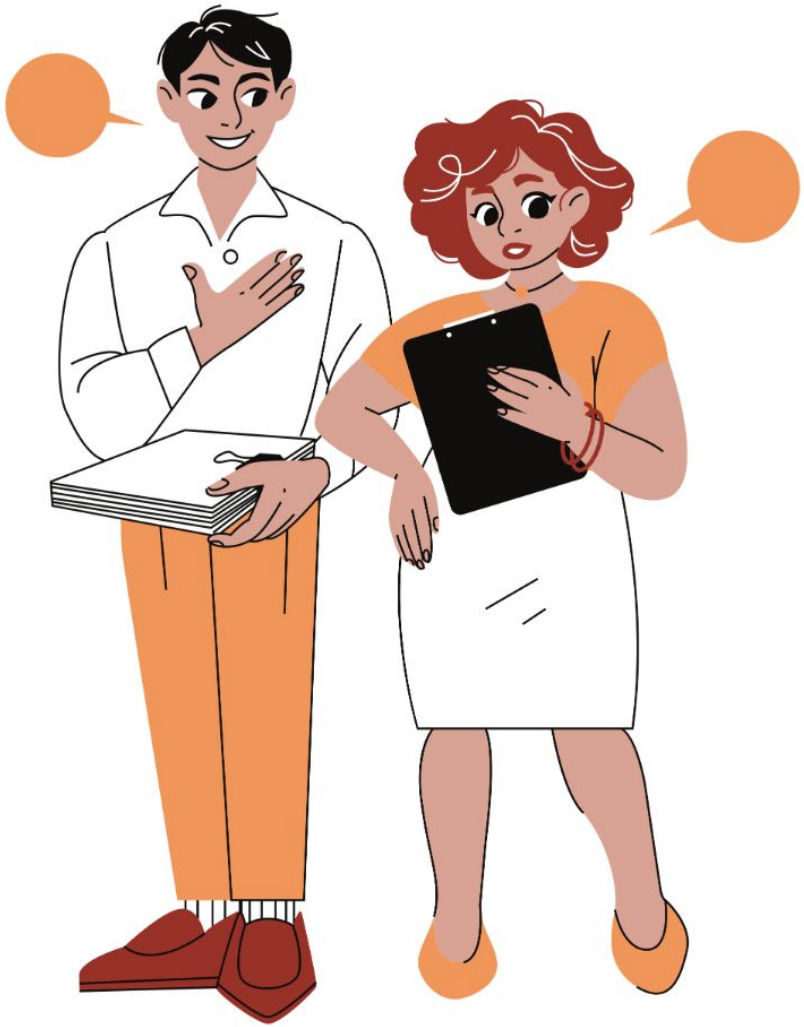

IFI: Creative, industry-focused and analytical

CCC: Fast-paced, adaptable and crisis-focused

IP: Visual, observant and descriptive

MARVEL: Character-driven, strategic and crisis-focused

Addressing the Committee

How to address?

Useful openings:

“Honourable Chair, distinguished delegates…”

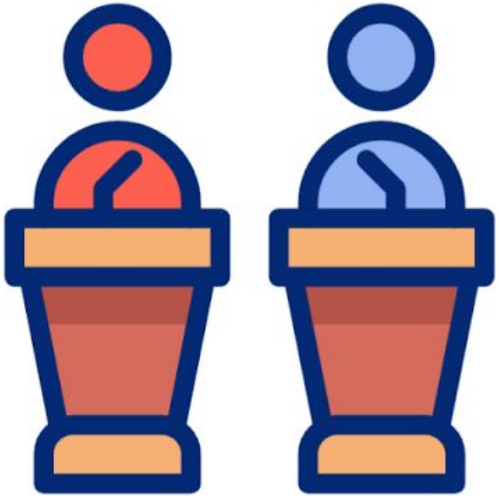

“The delegation of ____ believes…”

“The representative of ____ would like to emphasize…”

“This delegation recognizes…”

“The delegation strongly supports…”

“The delegation respectfully disagrees…”

Diplomatic Vocabulary

Basic word	MUN alternative
Help	Assist / Support
Stop	Prevent / Curb
Fix	Address
Give	Provide
Problem	Challenge / Issue
Bad	Ineffective / Concerning
Make	Establish / Develop
Use	Utilize
Need	Require
Show	Demonstrate
Start	Initiate
Make better	Improve / Strengthen

Questions

Good questions don't just ask for information. They test whether a proposal actually works.

Try:

“How does the delegation intend to fund this proposal?”

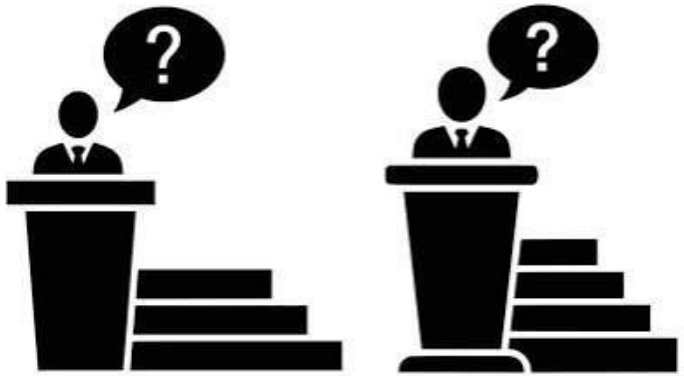

“How would this solution be implemented?”

“What mechanism would ensure accountability?”

“How would this proposal address the root cause?”

“What role would developing countries play?”

“How does the delegation plan to measure its success?”

The Golden Rule

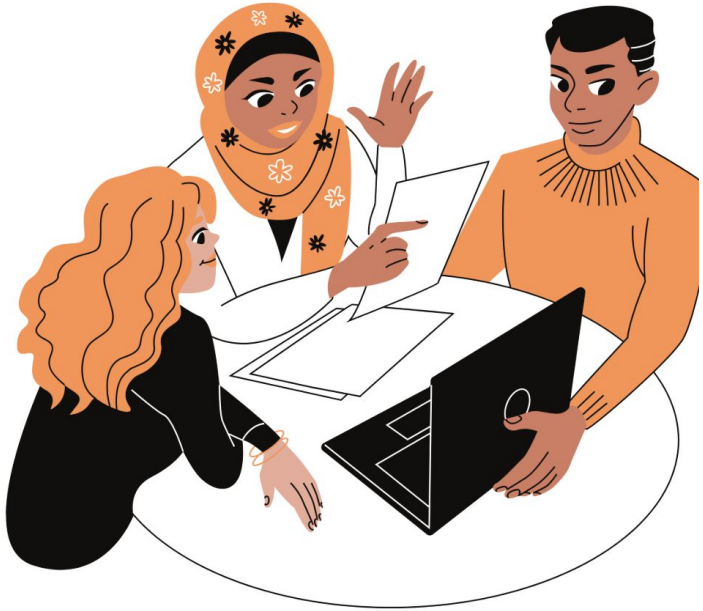

Don't use complicated words just to sound intelligent.

A clear:

“This proposal is difficult to implement because it lacks a funding mechanism.”

is better than a confusing sentence full of unnecessary vocabulary

Content

Know your committee: A good delegate needs to understand what their committee can actually discuss and do.

LOK SABHA

What is it?

The Lok Sabha is India's lower house of Parliament. In an MUN simulation, delegates represent Indian political figures/parties and debate domestic legislation and national issues. You are debating Indian domestic policy, not representing a foreign country. Think about: “What would this political representative/party argue about this issue?”

Main areas:

- Indian laws and legislation
- Economy
- Education
- Healthcare
- Internal security
- Agriculture
- Technology
- Social issues
- Government policies
- Delegate mindset

Useful skills

- Parliamentary debate
- Rebuttals
- Political arguments
- Evidence
- Understanding bills
- Responding quickly

DISEC: Disarmament and International Security

DISEC focuses on international security and weapons-related issues.

Main areas

- Nuclear weapons
- Chemical and biological weapons
- Arms control
- Disarmament
- Weapons proliferation
- Autonomous weapons
- Cybersecurity
- Military technology
- International security

Delegate mindset
Ask:
“How can countries reduce security threats while protecting national security?”

Important concepts

- Disarmament: Reducing or eliminating weapons.
- Arms control: Agreements that regulate weapons.
- Non-proliferation: Preventing the spread of certain weapons.
- Deterrence: Preventing an attack by maintaining the ability to respond.

UNHRC: Human Rights

UNHRC focuses on protecting and promoting human rights.

Main areas

- Freedom of expression
- Gender equality
- Children's rights
- Refugees
- Religious freedom
- Discrimination
- Torture
- Humanitarian crises
- Minority rights

Delegate mindset
Consider:
“What rights are being affected, and what practical measures can protect them?”

Important concepts

- Universal human rights
- State responsibility
- International cooperation
- Humanitarian assistance
- Accountability
- Important challenge
- Don't just say:
- “Countries should respect human rights.”
- Explain how.

UNODC: Drugs and Organized Crime

UNODC deals with transnational crime, drug-related issues and criminal networks.

Main areas

- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Organized crime
- Cybercrime
- Money laundering
- Corruption
- Border security
- Illegal financial networks

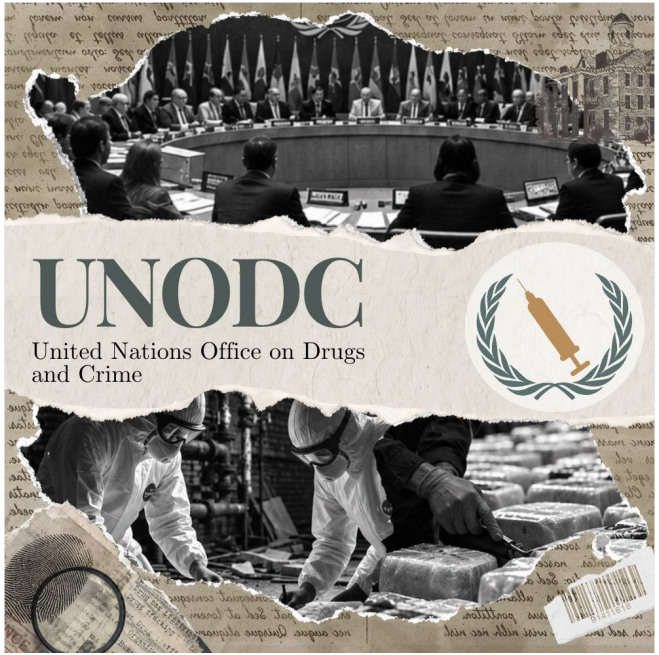

Delegate mindset

Ask:

> “How can countries cooperate when criminal networks operate across borders?”

Possible solutions:

- Intelligence sharing
- Border cooperation
- Law-enforcement training
- Financial monitoring
- International agreements
- Victim protection
- Rehabilitation programmes

UNSC: International Peace and Security

The Security Council deals with threats to international peace and security.

Main areas

- Armed conflicts
- Peacekeeping
- Sanctions
- Ceasefires
- Territorial disputes
- International security
- Humanitarian emergencies

Important concept: P5
The five permanent members are:
China
France
Russia
United Kingdom
United States
They have veto power on substantive resolutions.

Delegate mindset
UNSC debates can move quickly.

You need to ask:
“What can realistically be done to address this security crisis?”

Think about:
Immediate action ➜ Long-term solution ➜ Implementation ➜ Enforcement

IFI: Indian Film Industry

IFI focuses on the Indian film industry, including filmmaking, entertainment, representation and the challenges faced by the industry.

Main areas

- Film production
- Bollywood and regional cinema
- Film censorship
- Freedom of artistic expression
- Representation and diversity
- Film piracy
- OTT platforms
- Film financing
- Actors' and filmmakers' rights
- Technology in filmmaking
- Social media and cinema
- International recognition of Indian cinema

Delegate mindset

Ask:
“How can the Indian film industry grow while balancing creativity, business interests and social responsibility?”

Key concepts

- Film Censorship: The regulation or restriction of content shown in films.
- OTT: Online platforms through which audiences can stream films and other content.
- Film Piracy: The unauthorized copying, distribution or sharing of films.
- Representation: How different communities, cultures and identities are portrayed in films.
- Film Financing: The funding required to produce, distribute and promote a film.
- Regional Cinema: Films produced in India's different regional languages and cultural contexts.

CCC: Continuous Crisis Committee

CCC is a fast-paced crisis committee where the situation can change continuously and delegates must respond to new developments.

Main areas

- Ongoing crises
- Emergency situations
- Political conflicts
- Security threats
- Humanitarian emergencies
- Unexpected developments
- Crisis management
- Intelligence and information
- Immediate decision-making
- Long-term consequences

Delegate mindset

Ask:

> “What is happening, what can we do immediately, and how should we adapt if the situation changes?”

Important concepts

- Crisis Update: New information introduced during the committee that changes the situation.
- Crisis Response: Immediate action taken to address an emerging threat or problem.
- Adaptability: The ability to change your strategy when new information becomes available.
- Contingency Plan: A backup plan prepared for possible developments.
- Crisis Directive: A written instruction or action proposed by delegates to respond to the crisis.
- Escalation: A situation becoming more serious or dangerous over time.

IP: International Press Corps

IP Photography is different from traditional MUN committees.

You aren't primarily writing resolutions.

Your job is to document the conference visually.

Skills

- Composition
- Lighting
- Framing
- Timing
- Perspective
- Storytelling
- Ethical photography

What should you capture?

Not just:

> “A person giving a speech.”

Look for:

- Reactions
- Negotiations
- Intense debate
- Committee atmosphere
- Behind-the-scenes moments
- Interesting compositions
- Interaction between delegates

The key question

> “What story does this photograph tell?”

A technically good photograph with no story is less useful than a photograph that communicates something about the conference.

MARVEL What is MARVEL?

Delegate Mindset

“What would my character realistically do in this situation, and how can I use their abilities, resources and relationships to solve the crisis?”

MARVEL is a fictional crisis committee set in the Marvel Universe. Instead of representing countries, delegates may represent superheroes, villains, organizations, or other characters and respond to fictional threats and conflicts.

Main Areas

- Superhero and villain conflicts
- Global and fictional crises
- Threats to civilians
- Use of superpowers and technology
- Alliances and rivalries
- Organizations such as S.H.I.E.L.D.
- Unexpected crisis developments
- Strategic decision-making
- Character goals and motivations
- Crisis management

Important Concepts

- Character Motivation: The goals, values, or interests that influence your character's decisions.
- Abilities & Resources: The powers, technology, knowledge, allies, or other advantages available to your character.
- Alliance: Working with another character or group because your interests overlap.
- Crisis Directive: A written action proposed by delegates to respond to an ongoing crisis.
- Crisis Update: New information or an event introduced during committee that changes the situation.
- Strategic Decision-Making: Choosing actions based on the consequences they may create.
- Key Challenge: Don't just act like your character. Think like your character while still thinking strategically.

DEBATE SPEECH

SPEAK WITH PURPOSE

The P-A-S-S Structure

A speech isn't just about sounding confident.

Every speech should have a purpose.

P — Problem

What is happening?

A — Analysis

Why is it happening?

S — Stand

What does your country/representative believe?

S — Solution

What should be done?

Example

> “Honourable Chair, distinguished delegates, the delegation of Brazil recognizes that illegal deforestation continues to threaten biodiversity and local communities. One major cause is the lack of effective monitoring and enforcement. Brazil believes that international cooperation should focus on strengthening national monitoring systems rather than imposing identical policies on every country. Therefore, this delegation proposes satellite-based monitoring partnerships and technical assistance for developing nations.”

Notice that every sentence has a job.

Speeches

30-SECOND SPEECH

Use:

Problem ➜ Position ➜ Solution

60-SECOND SPEECH

Use:

Hook ➜ Problem ➜ Evidence ➜ Position ➜ Solution ➜ Closing

90-SECOND SPEECH

Use:

Hook ➜ Context ➜ Problem ➜ Evidence ➜ Country position ➜ Multiple solutions ➜ Closing

Speech checklist

Before speaking, ask:

- □ Did I address the topic?
- □ Did I represent my country?
- □ Did I provide something new?
- □ Did I give a solution?
- □ Can someone understand my argument?
- □ Am I within the time limit?

Strategies and Tips

HOW TO ACTUALLY WIN?
Instead of trying to speak the most, focus on being a delegate who consistently contributes useful ideas.

BEFORE THE CONFERENCE

1. Know your country

Know:

- Position
- Allies
- Opponents
- Previous actions
- Relevant treaties
- Important statistics
- Existing policies

2. Prepare your "Emergency Sheet"

Keep one page containing:

Country position

5 important facts

3 possible solutions

5 potential allies

3 likely criticisms

Responses to those criticisms

Useful statistics

You can quickly look at this during the committee.

DURING COMMITTEE

1. Speak early
Your first speech helps establish your position. But don't feel that you have to speak constantly.

2. Listen strategically
While others speak, write: Delegate → Argument → Weakness → Possible response
This gives you material for later speeches.

3. Build relationships
During unmoderated caucuses:
Don't just ask:
“Want to join our bloc?”
Instead ask:
“What solutions is your delegation looking for?”
Then find common ground.

4. Be useful
If your group is writing a resolution, don't just stand around.
Offer to:

- Draft clauses
- Research facts
- Combine proposals
- Check feasibility
- Edit language

5. Be diplomatic
You can challenge someone without creating unnecessary conflict.

Strong delegate:
“The delegation appreciates the proposal but believes that its current funding mechanism is insufficient. We suggest modifying the clause to include international financial assistance.”

THE "AWARD-WINNING" MINDSET

Don't think: “How do I get the most speeches?”

Think: “How do I become one of the delegates who actually moves the committee forward?”

A strong delegate usually demonstrates: Research + Speaking + Diplomacy + Leadership + Negotiation + Content

The 5 things to remember

1. SPEAK
Make your presence known.

2. LISTEN
Understand what everyone else is saying.

3. THINK
Don't repeat arguments that have already been made.

4. NEGOTIATE
Find common ground.

5. CONTRIBUTE
Help create actual solutions.

FINAL SMUN RULE:
Don't try to be the loudest delegate in the room. Try to be the delegate people need in the room.
